FROM OUR MAYOR

DEAR CLEVELAND FAMILIES,

On behalf of the Cleveland Transformation Alliance, I am pleased to present the 2024 School Quality Guide. This valuable information is intended to assist you in discovering the most suitable school for the children in your life. You can use it to evaluate academic ratings, school location, contact details, distinctive school offerings, and scan QR codes to access more information online. I hope that you find its contents useful and easy to navigate.

Every child deserves their best-fit education to set them on a pathway to future success. To help you find the right public school - whether it's a Cleveland Metropolitan School District school or a tuition-free charter school - this guide can help you explore all your options. Once you decide on a school, simply reach out to the school or a Cleveland Transformation Alliance staff member for assistance with the application process.

Visit myCLEschool.org for an interactive school finder that can be used in collaboration with this guide. The site allows families to find schools by neighborhood, programs offered, ratings, and tools to plan a route to school.

You can use this Guide and the interactive school finder tool online to research schools and make an informed school choice decision. If your child is enrolled in their best-fit school, they will be more excited about learning and more likely to persist through graduation.

This is the year our community must reignite the commitment to work together to support high-quality learning for all of Cleveland's students. We must do better for our students and our city.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Justin M. Bibb

Mayor, City of Cleveland | Chair, Cleveland Transformation Alliance

CLEVELAND EDUCATION OPTIONS HELP FAMILIES 'DO THINGS DIFFERENTLY' TO FIND A CULTURE OF SUCCESS

Amyra Perry loves the arts and enjoys showing off her creative side while drawing, dancing, and helping friends and family with uniquely crafted hairstyles and fingernail designs.

Alesiana Parker, Perry's older sister, is a buckle-down learner who does her best work when she can dial in to her studies and immerse herself in the material of a subject while blocking out distractions.

"The girls take their learning very seriously, but very differently," said their mother, Denise Parker. "It was very important to us to find the right schools that let them thrive their own way.

"Educational settings are not a one-size-fits-all picture, and I think it's important to recognize that, to have the ability to do things differently and give children what they need to succeed."

That's why the student-centered public schools in the city of Cleveland are the answer for Parker's children and nearly 50,000 other students in Northeast Ohio. The city's 100-plus educational settings set up vibrant learning spaces where rigorous curriculums are delivered in a way students can master a variety of skills and achieve their potential.

Families can choose and refine their school options based on programs, locations and more, a step that personalizes the decision-making process.

Perry, a 9th-grader, found her home at CMSD's School of the Arts, an audition-based center of learning that integrates the arts with college preparatory academics.

Meanwhile, Parker, who is in her junior year, opted for the Ohio Connections Academy, an online public charter school that personalizes education while also building a community that fosters success. With the flexibility to complete her classes, she can pursue her love of animals by working part-time at a doggie daycare.

Khadijah Fair, Family Engagement Manager with Cleveland Transformation Alliance, helped guide Perry and Parker finalize their school selection, Denise Parker said. Fair supported the Parker family by helping them navigate Cleveland's various public school choices and the enrollment process. The collective partnership between district leaders, educators and families is a calling card for the city's schools.

"Cleveland schools have been a blessing, there's so much to offer families," said Parker, who is also the mother of three adult children. "It's exactly what we needed, and we are lucky to have the diversity of choices and the cultures that nurture our children.

"For me, that's important, and I feel strongly about that. I would tell anyone that Cleveland's public schools have what their children want. You can find the school that engages your kids and helps them in any direction they want to go."

TIMELINE

FALL 2011

Cleveland Mayor Frank G. Jackson convenes a coalition of education, nonprofit, philanthropic, and business leaders to forge a dramatically different path for Cleveland schools.

SPRING 2012

The coalition sends Cleveland's Plan for Transforming Schools to Ohio's governor and lawmakers.

JULY 2012

State legislators pass the bipartisan House Bill 525 to implement the Cleveland Plan. Governor Kasich signs the bill into law, enabling reform work to begin.

NOVEMBER 2012

Voters approve a 15-mill school levy, the first operating levy passed in 16 years and the largest in the city's history. For the first time, a share of operating levy money is set aside for high-performing charter schools formally partnered with or sponsored by the CMSD.

DECEMBER 2012

The Cleveland Transformation Alliance, a new nonprofit tasked with overseeing reform efforts, begins operations.

MAY 2013

The Cleveland Teachers Union votes on a new contract that formalizes changes in state law and provides additional flexibility at the school level. Key elements include changing the teacher compensation system, reducing the weight of seniority in layoff decisions, and providing schools with more say in hiring, and the length of the school day.

SPRING 2014

The Alliance launches its website and releases its comprehensive guide on school quality for all Cleveland public schools, both district and charter.

Pre4CLE launches with a goal of ensuring all 3- and 4-year-old children in Cleveland have access to a high-quality preschool by: Increasing the number of high-quality preschools in Cleveland; Helping preschool providers improve their quality rating; Connecting families to quality preschool programs.

AUGUST 2014

CMSD begins to leverage its new structure, work rules, and other systemic changes made possible by the Cleveland Plan.

NOVEMBER 2014

Voters pass a capital bond to support the CMSD's Facilities Master Plan.

JUNE 2015

The Alliance releases its first report to the community on the implementation and impact of the Cleveland Plan.

FALL 2015

Building on the Higher Education Compact's efforts to improve college readiness, access, and persistence rates for CMSD students, the local community begins to explore Say Yes to Education as a potential partner in reform efforts.

The Ohio legislature overwhelmingly passed House Bill 2, which significantly strengthens the accountability structures that govern Ohio's charter sector without compromising the school level autonomy that is critical to the charter school model.

FALL 2016

Voters approve Issue 108, a renewal of the 15-mill operating levy first passed in 2012.

JANUARY 2019

Cleveland officially becomes the fourth Say Yes to Education chapter in the nation, announcing nearly $82 million in gifts raised out of a total campaign of $125 million, which will fund post-secondary scholarships for Cleveland residents who graduate from CMSD or partnering charter high schools for the next 25 years.

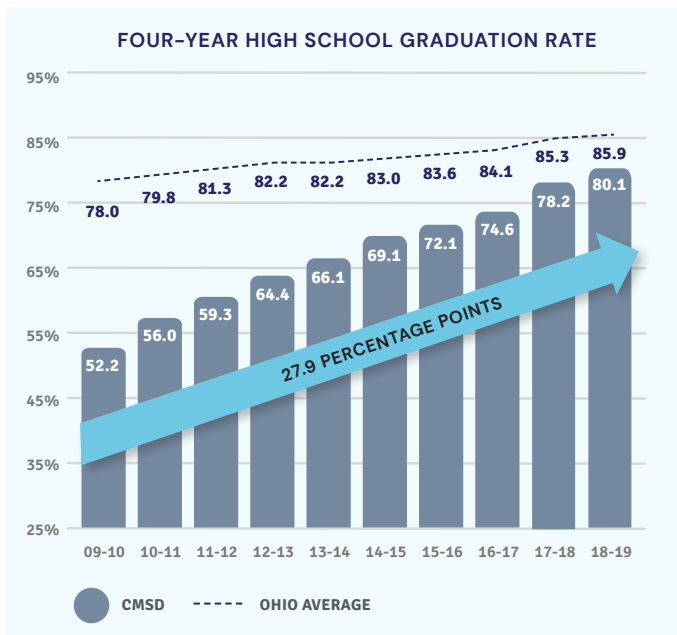

SPRING 2019

CMSD, at the urging of the Bond Accountability Commission, begins a review of its Master Facilities Plan with long-term planning meetings for its K-8 schools. Factors considered include building age and use, program strength, and population trends across the city. Charter schools are part of that review.

FALL 2020

The Ohio Department of Education releases data on CMSD's graduation rate for the Class of 2019, showing a 27.9 percentage point increase in ten years.

FALL 2021

Cleveland Transformation Alliance convenes conversations to update The Cleveland Plan to reflect successes, our continued work, and lessons learned during the pandemic. The CTA Board votes to support the update in September 2021. A month later, the Board also approves its first-ever strategic plan.

WINTER 2023

The Cleveland Transformation Alliance updates the online School Finder Tool and the printed School Quality Guide to make them better tools for families. The refreshed resources provide more information about the “extras” provided by schools and improves the ability to search for schools aligned to children’s interests.

SAY YES CLEVELAND

In January 2019, Say Yes Cleveland was launched, creating a game-changing opportunity for generations of Clevelanders. For the next 25 years, Say Yes Cleveland will provide two big things for students in CMSD and partnering charter schools: support services in school from PreK through high school graduation, and tuition scholarships after high school.

SUPPORT SERVICES

Say Yes Cleveland provides support services to students from PreK through 12th grade, in 100% of CMSD and partner charter schools as of August 2022.

Services include

- After-school & summer programming.
- Legal assistance.
- Mental health services.
- A Family Support Specialist in each school to connect students and their families to needed assistance.

TUITION SCHOLARSHIPS

Say Yes Cleveland provides scholarships to eligible CMSD and partner charter high school graduates toward the cost of tuition at college or postsecondary programs, after federal and state grants.

Say Yes scholarships can be used

- At all public universities, community colleges in Ohio.
- Any Pell-eligible certificate program in Ohio.
- Over 100 private colleges and universities across the country.

Say
Yes!
Cleveland

WHY SAY YES?

Cleveland's future belongs to its children. That's why Say Yes Cleveland is working to unite our community behind a program that provides the children in our public schools with the supports they need to overcome barriers throughout their school years. Then, after high school, it creates wider opportunities for them by providing a tuition scholarship toward a college degree or career training certificate.

SayYesCleveland.org

SAY YES SCHOLARSHIPS

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE?

ENROLLMENT
+ RESIDENCY
= ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible for a scholarship, a student must:

1. Be continuously enrolled in a CMSD or partner charter high school, from ninth grade through graduation.
2. Live within the CMSD boundaries continuously from ninth grade through graduation—including the city of Cleveland, the villages of Bratenahl, Linndale, and Newburgh Heights, and parts of Brook Park and Garfield Heights. See map, page 5. Any high school student who experiences homelessness should connect with their school counselor and Project ACT to ensure scholarship eligibility.

Say Yes Cleveland provides scholarships covering the cost of college or postsecondary tuition, after federal and state grants, to every eligible CMSD high school graduate.

What's Covered?

Say Yes scholarships apply to tuition only. Students may be able to use institutional aid and other non-Say Yes scholarships for non-tuition expenses such as room, board, or books.

The scholarship will address the gap between the total cost of tuition, minus federal and state grants.

AT OHIO PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS & PRIVATE SCHOOLS NATIONWIDE

- Students in families earning $75,000 or less per year, will have the full tuition difference paid for up to eight semesters.
- Students in families earning over $75,000 a year will receive up to $5,000 annually, covering up to eight semesters.

Say Yes Cleveland Scholarships are made possible through the generosity of individuals, businesses, foundations, higher education partners, and others in the community.

VISIT SAYYESCLEVELAND.ORG FOR PARTICIPATING COLLEGES.

Look for this badge on school listings to find schools that offer Say Yes Cleveland support services (K-8 and high schools) and that offer Say Yes scholarships to eligible graduates (high schools).

COLLEGE READINESS

College Now
Greater Cleveland

HELPING CLEVELAND STUDENTS SAY YES! TO HIGHER EDUCATION

College Now provides support and resources to middle school students, high school students, and adult learners to prepare for and explore educational opportunities after high school, including two-year and four-year degree programs and technical/vocational certificate programs.

Our advisors serve 29,000 students each year in more than 185 settings, including schools, our downtown Resource Center, businesses, and community settings.

www.collegenowgc.org
216-241-5587

1. PREPARE FOR COLLEGE & CAREER

At College Now, advisors are uniquely trained to match individuals of all ages and levels of experience with the educational pathways to wealth-creating occupations. This is not a “one size fits all” approach. For some the educational pathway might be a four-year degree in accounting; for others, a two-year nursing degree; and still for others, an 18-month welding apprenticeship.

College Now advisors meet students where they are, assess their education and career experience and goals, and match them with the opportunities that are their best fit.

2. COLLEGE & CAREER ACCESS ADVISING

With the help of College Now advisors, students develop a college and career plan by:

- Determining their skills and interests
- Exploring career fields and relevant academic programs
- Navigating the admissions process, and
- Registering for required tests.

3. FINANCIAL AID & STUDENT LOAN COUNSELING

College Now offers advising in schools, in our Resource Center and at community venues on student financial aid, including:

- Learning about financial aid options
- Completing the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid), federal, state, institutional, and private grants, loans, and scholarships
- Evaluating financial aid award packages

The advisors focus on helping students achieve a goal of securing maximum financial aid with minimal loan debt.

NAVIGATING CHALLENGES

WE'LL TAKE YOU THERE!

CMSD provides transportation for students who live one or more miles from school, and provides free RTA passes for older students.

CALL THE TRANSPORTATION HOTLINE

216-838-4287 (or 216-838-4BUS) to understand your options. Hotline staff are available weekdays through the school year and in the summer.

Busing for all CMSD students and most Cleveland charter school students is coordinated by the CMSD Transportation Department. Their professional staff work closely with school choice and enrollment to offer complete information to families about their options for schools and busing.

TRANSPORTATION SERVICES

GETTING TO NEIGHBORHOOD ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS—DISTRICT AND CHARTER

Preschool students are eligible for transportation only if they have a disability. Transportation eligibility is based on distance from the home residence to the school.

Students in grades K-8 must live 1.00 miles or more from their home school to receive some form of transportation service. To receive a yellow school bus, students must live within a 1.00-mile–3.00-mile radius, except for CMSD city-wide draw schools.

Students in grades 9-12 must live 1.00 miles or more from their home school to receive RTA transportation. (Identification swipe cards are provided for this group.) The State of Ohio only requires transportation for students in grades K-8 who reside more than 2.0 miles from school. Ohio does not require transportation for grades 9-12.

GETTING TO HIGH SCHOOL

CMSD partners closely with RTA to deliver students safe and sound to school on time every day through their buses, trains, and stations.

Students in grades 9-12 receive combination school ID cards that include an RTA swipe pass to allow them to travel from 6 am - 8 pm weekdays.

Special situations:

Students with disabilities of all ages are provided with transportation if it's included in their Individualized Education Program (IEP).

Did you choose an elementary school outside your neighborhood?

Transportation is not guaranteed for students in schools other than their closest neighborhood school, but staff can work with you to identify available routes. Students at schools with unique models, and the single-gender elementary schools may be eligible for yellow bus access. You can call the hotline at 216-838-4BUS all year-round, including through the summer to explore your options.

Do you live outside of Cleveland?

There are some addresses outside the city of Cleveland that fall within the footprint of the CMSD and are eligible for transportation. If you live outside of CMSD's service area, you must make your own transportation arrangements.

If you're staying somewhere temporarily:

You may access transportation services by bus, cab, or van through Project ACT.

NAVIGATING CHALLENGES

DID YOU KNOW?

Homelessness goes by many names—staying with family, doubling up, in transition—and deeply affects students' ability to learn. More than six percent of children in Cleveland experience homelessness in a given year.

Project ACT

SUPPORTING YOUTH AND FAMILIES IN TRANSITION

Project ACT provides instructional and support services to students in preschool through grade 12 who are in temporary living situations.

They offer a holistic and comprehensive approach to ensure students have access to education and can fully participate in school, including:

- Removing barriers that would limit a student's ability to fully engage and participate in school activities and events.
- Partnering with families to identify and meet student's physical, social, and emotional needs.
- Empowering parents to support their children.

You can register your child with Project ACT at the district office, 1111 Superior Ave; the corner of 12th and Superior. They are open Monday through Friday, 8 am -4 pm to register your child. Call 216-838-0210 for more information on how you can help students navigate these transitions.

STUDENTS IN TEMPORARY LIVING SITUATIONS

Students in temporary living situations face significant barriers to educational success and benefit from the stability that a secure school placement can provide. The McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act is a federal law that grants important educational rights to students in temporary living situations.

A student is protected under McKinney-Vento if they lack a fixed, regular, and adequate nighttime residence. This includes children and youth who are:

- Staying in a shelter, including emergency/transitional shelters, domestic violence shelters, and runaway and homeless youth shelters.
- Doubled-up with a friend, relative or someone else because their family lost their home due to eviction, foreclosure, natural disaster, or economic reasons; or staying in a motel, hotel, trailer park, or campground because they have nowhere else to go.
- Staying in housing that is substandard or lacks full utilities.
- Living in places not ordinarily used for sleeping, including cars, parks, public places, abandoned buildings, or bus or train stations.
- Abandoned in a hospital.
- Unaccompanied youth, not living at home. This includes children and youth who:
 - Were asked to leave home or locked out by a parent/legal guardian,
 - Left home without consent of parents (runaways), or
 - Are living doubled-up without a legal guardian due to economic reasons or lack formal custody papers while their parents may be incarcerated, hospitalized, or in a rehabilitation center.

Know Your Rights

- Students in temporary housing have a right under the McKinney-Vento Act to:
 - Receive a free, appropriate public education.
 - Enroll in school immediately, even if lacking documents normally required for enrollment, or having missed application or enrollment deadlines during any period of homelessness.
 - Attend classes while the school gathers needed documents.
 - Continue attending the school of origin, or enroll in a different school where space is available, at the request of the parent, guardian, or Receive transportation to and from school.
 - Receive educational services comparable to those provided to students in permanent housing.
 - The right to a written explanation if your child is assigned to a school other than the school of your choice, and the right to appeal that decision.

WHEN, HOW (AND IF) TO CHANGE SCHOOLS

It's always tough to be the new kid in the middle of the school year: to find new friends, adapt to new teachers and rules. But for more than 6.5 million students nationwide, being the new kid can be a frequent occurrence—and there is a cost to their social and academic development.

What Is Student Mobility?

In K-12 education, “student mobility,” also called “churn” or “transience,” can include any time a student changes schools for reasons other than grade promotion, but in general it refers to students changing schools during a school year.

It may be voluntary—such as a student changing schools to participate in a new program—or involuntary, such as being expelled or escaping from bullying. Student mobility is often related to residential mobility, such as when a family becomes homeless or moves due to changes in a parent’s job.

The Summer Switch

Voluntary transfers, which are more likely to happen during the summer, cause less academic disruption and may be associated with academic improvement if they lead to better services for the student.

Changing Schools because of Conflict

You are an expert on your child and their needs. Before moving them to another school, which could impact their achievement long term, try working through the conflict as your child’s advocate. No one knows your child better than you; the school should welcome your presence and efforts to improve their experience and achievement at school. For tips, see page 194.

Excerpted from Sparks, S. (2016, August 11). Student Mobility: How It Affects Learning. Education Week. Retrieved December 18, 2019 from <http://www.edweek.org/ew/issues/student-mobility/>

HOW DOES MOBILITY AFFECT STUDENT LEARNING?

Even normal transitions—at the start of school, sixth and ninth grades for example—can cause some students to stumble. Prior research has found students who attended K-8 schools have slightly higher academic achievement than those who attended 6-8 middle schools, and students are at higher risk of dropping out or having behavior issues during transition years like ninth grade.

Various studies have found student mobility—and particularly multiple moves—is associated with a lower school engagement, poorer grades, and a higher risk of dropping out of high school. Research has found students generally lose about three months of reading and math learning each time they switch schools.

CHOOSING AND STICKING TO YOUR CHOICE IN THE EARLY YEARS

Mobility can be particularly hard on children in the early grades, as they learn foundational skills and build trust with peers and educators. A 2015 study found that the more often early elementary students moved, the lower they scored on both the state standardized math test, and on teacher observations of the students’ critical thinking.

NAVIGATING CHALLENGES

WHEN CONFLICTS ARISE

Conflict is a normal part of life. When conflicts arise at school, there are things you can do to improve the situation and open up communication.

1.

Stay positive. Your words are the most powerful to your child and will shape their expectations. Even if you're feeling negative toward an adult at the school, try not to let your child know that.

2.

Listen carefully. In order to get the facts straight, ask your child open-ended questions, then follow up by asking for specific examples that tell you what you're dealing with. Make notes about the issue with dates to help you notice patterns. Does your student just need to vent? Sharing with you may help put their feelings into words.

3.

Brainstorm solutions together. Your child may have some ideas about what they, the teacher, or you can do to fix the problem. Soliciting your child's input will show them their thoughts are valued, and forging a plan together may help them be more receptive to possible solutions.

4.

Observe the situation. Get as much information as you can about the source of the conflict before scheduling a meeting with staff. Question other parents whose children are or were in the same situation for their input.

5.

Open a dialogue. Ask, "How do you feel my child is doing?" Listen to the staff member's assessment and suggestions before you express your concerns. Posing questions and avoiding accusations will yield the best results. Bring along a notepad with your notes, and to keep track of what responses you receive.

6.

Build the connection. Volunteering time or keeping in regular contact with a teacher by phone, text, or email will help you understand each other and communicate better. When a teacher does make an extra effort with your child, reach out to show your appreciation.

7.

If necessary, meet with the next person up the chain of command. If you feel the situation isn't improving and you aren't getting an adequate response from the teacher, request a meeting with a school leader. The principal may be able to explain the teacher's approach and more objectively assess the situation. You can find out from the school's website who the principal reports to.

8.

Give it some time. Some changes take time to show up in a child's achievement, but monitor your child to see if things are improving, staying the same, or getting worse.

9.

Explore your options. Would a different teacher or classroom make a difference? Have you taken the issue to the top of this school and found no relief? Studies have shown that children who switch schools lose out on learning, so try to hold out until the end of the year.

A PATH TO SUCCESS

Dean Manke, Principal,
Invictus High School

A PATH TO SUCCESS FOR EVERY STUDENT: DROP OUT PREVENTION & CREDIT RECOVERY

One of life's most celebrated milestones is watching a young person cross the stage at high school graduation. If that student has overcome obstacles to earning their diploma, the feelings of joy and pride are multiplied.

This might include a young mother who walks across the stage and poses for a photo with her smiling baby or a young man who needs a second, third, or fourth chance to succeed. For some students, the definition of "success" might not include a high school diploma, says Dean Manke, director of Invictus High School, describing a former student who has stayed in touch and now owns a professional car detailing business.

OVERCOMING OBSTACLES

If the COVID-19 pandemic taught us anything, it's that traditional classroom-based learning isn't the best fit for every student. We also know that students who struggled before the pandemic are at increased risk of dropping out, so connecting them with a program that meets their needs is more important than ever. "These aren't bad kids who couldn't make it," says Manke, "they are just kids, often who have experienced trauma, who are struggling to succeed in a regular classroom environment."

Invictus' programs emphasize flexible, self-paced learning, mentoring, peer groups, mental health services, and academic plans that allow each student to define his/her own goals. Many dropout prevention and recovery programs are based on the Career-Based Intervention model, with a focus on career exploration, employment skills, and work-based learning.

A PATH FOR EVERY STUDENT

Public schools in Cleveland that offer an alternative route to graduation include: Castle High School, Frederick Douglass, Invictus High School, Lake Erie International High School, Old Brook High School, Promise Academy, and Regent High School.

QUESTIONS TO ASK

If your student/family is considering a dropout prevention or credit recovery program, the questions below can help you find the best fit school.

- What is the school's approach to education?
- What kinds of support are available to meet students' academic needs?
- How does the school handle student behavior challenges?
- Are there social-emotional and mental health supports available?
- How do you keep students engaged in the school community?
- What kind of programs take place on campus?
- How do they work with students to set and achieve personalized goals?
- Are lessons completed in person, online, or both?
- How do they personalize student learning?
- What kind of planning do you provide for after graduation?
- Are there specialists (counselors, etc.) available at the school?
- How does the school communicate with families?

THE MONTESSORI MODEL

A BEST-FIT SCHOOL FOR EVERY CHILD: THE MONTESSORI MODEL

Cleveland is committed to being a leader in a nationwide movement toward learning that is more personalized and engages students more deeply, giving students more control of their learning.

“In a child-centered approach, learning should be joyful; education is about seeing the potential in every child and striving to unlock that potential,” says Jacqui Miller, Director of Montessori Programming and Operations for Cleveland Metropolitan School District (CMSD).

The Montessori Method is one of the ways CMSD works toward this new vision of education. It is a developmental, child-centered approach to learning based on the belief that children want to learn and that they learn best when they have choices about what and how they learn.

Two CMSD schools, Tremont Montessori and Stonebrook-White Montessori, are working toward a school-wide implementation of the model. Other district schools share some of the techniques inherent in the Montessori model. For example, Personalized Learning model schools are child-centered and Inquiry-Based schools center on experiential learning.

Some of the hallmarks of a Montessori classroom include:

- Multi-age classes with decreased focus on grade-level tasks and a nontraditional grading system, students stay in a class for multiple years.
- Students choose what they want to work on, how long they will do an activity, and with whom they will work.
- Montessori classrooms feature a prepared learning environment and specially designed learning materials, where everything has a purpose and place, designed to fit children’s hands and abilities.
- Teachers give small-group or individual lessons (rather than whole-group lessons) and move throughout the classroom, encouraging student independence.
- Focuses on the whole student—social, emotional, intellectual, and physical development, based on the psychology of learning.

Learning and development don’t happen on a set timeline for every child, despite what many people think. “So, staying in the same class environment, with the same teacher and classmates, allows for learning relationships to develop and for learning to build,” notes Miller, citing another benefit of the Montessori approach.

In addition to supporting CMSD’s dedicated Montessori schools, Miller assists other District schools with their Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) programs. In a shift from traditional (punishment-based) discipline, the PBIS approach teaches kids about behavior expectations and strategies to build pro-social behavior.

Connecting this to the Montessori model, classrooms are learning communities where children help establish behavior expectations and where social interactions are encouraged and navigated throughout the learning day. According to research, PBIS leads to better student behavior and improved grades. And there’s some evidence that PBIS may lead to less bullying.

A child-centered approach to education also recognizes that a one-size-fits-all approach to education doesn’t meet the needs of every child. Some students thrive with routine and structure, while others benefit from flexibility and independence. Either way, notes Miller, “when parents understand what’s possible and feel empowered, we can do remarkable things.”

Jacqui Miller

QUESTIONS TO ASK

If your student/family is interested in the Montessori approach to learning or a child-centered approach to learning, the questions below can help.

- In what ways does the school encourage student independence?
- Are there ways for kids of different ages and grade levels to learn together?
- Does the school use a Positive Behavioral Intervention and Support system (PBIS) to teach students (not just reward) positive behaviors?
- Are there social-emotional and mental health supports available?
- Have teachers participated in any special or unique training?
- How do they work with students to measure progress and set goals?
- How do they personalize student learning?
- What enrichment programs are available to students?

Find a high-quality preschool for your 3- or 4-year-old today!

WHY QUALITY MATTERS

Research shows that children who participate in high-quality early childhood programs are more likely to have better-developed language and social skills when they get to kindergarten, reach high school graduation, and pursue college or vocational training programs and have good careers as adults. School readiness starts well before children enter the door to kindergarten.

WHAT IS HIGH-QUALITY PRESCHOOL?

High-quality preschools have earned a 3-, 4-, or 5-star rating on Ohio's Step Up To Quality rating system. Every PRE4CLE preschool is made up of six high-quality elements:

- 1 ENVIRONMENTS that are fun, welcoming, safe and caring
- 2 STAFF AND TEACHERS who are well-trained and professional
- 3 RESEARCH-BASED CURRICULUM with lesson plans for each day's activities
- 4 EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIES to prepare your child for kindergarten
- 5 CREATIVE AND IMAGINATIVE PLAY to inspire a lifelong love of learning
- 6 FEEDBACK about your child's learning and progress

PRE4CLE is a collective impact initiative working to expand access to all 3- and 4-year-olds in Cleveland so that every child enters kindergarten ready to succeed. Developed in 2013 to fulfill a core goal of Cleveland's Plan for Transforming Schools, PRE4CLE staff work with partner organizations across the city to prioritize high-quality preschool for Cleveland's youngest learners by:

- Connecting families to high-quality public and private preschool programs;
- Connecting preschool providers to tools, resources, and key partners to increase their quality and serve more children; and
- Providing strategic leadership and advocacy to accelerate the ability of high-quality preschool in Cleveland.

WHAT'S OUR WHY

All Cleveland public education students have a high-quality, equitable education in schools that inspire joy in learning.

There is educational equity: Every student gets the services, resources, connections, and learning opportunities they need to realize their full potential, regardless of who they are or where they live. Educational equity must be intentionally co-created and continually revisited by members of the larger Cleveland community, including students, families, teachers, and school staff.

Quality Education

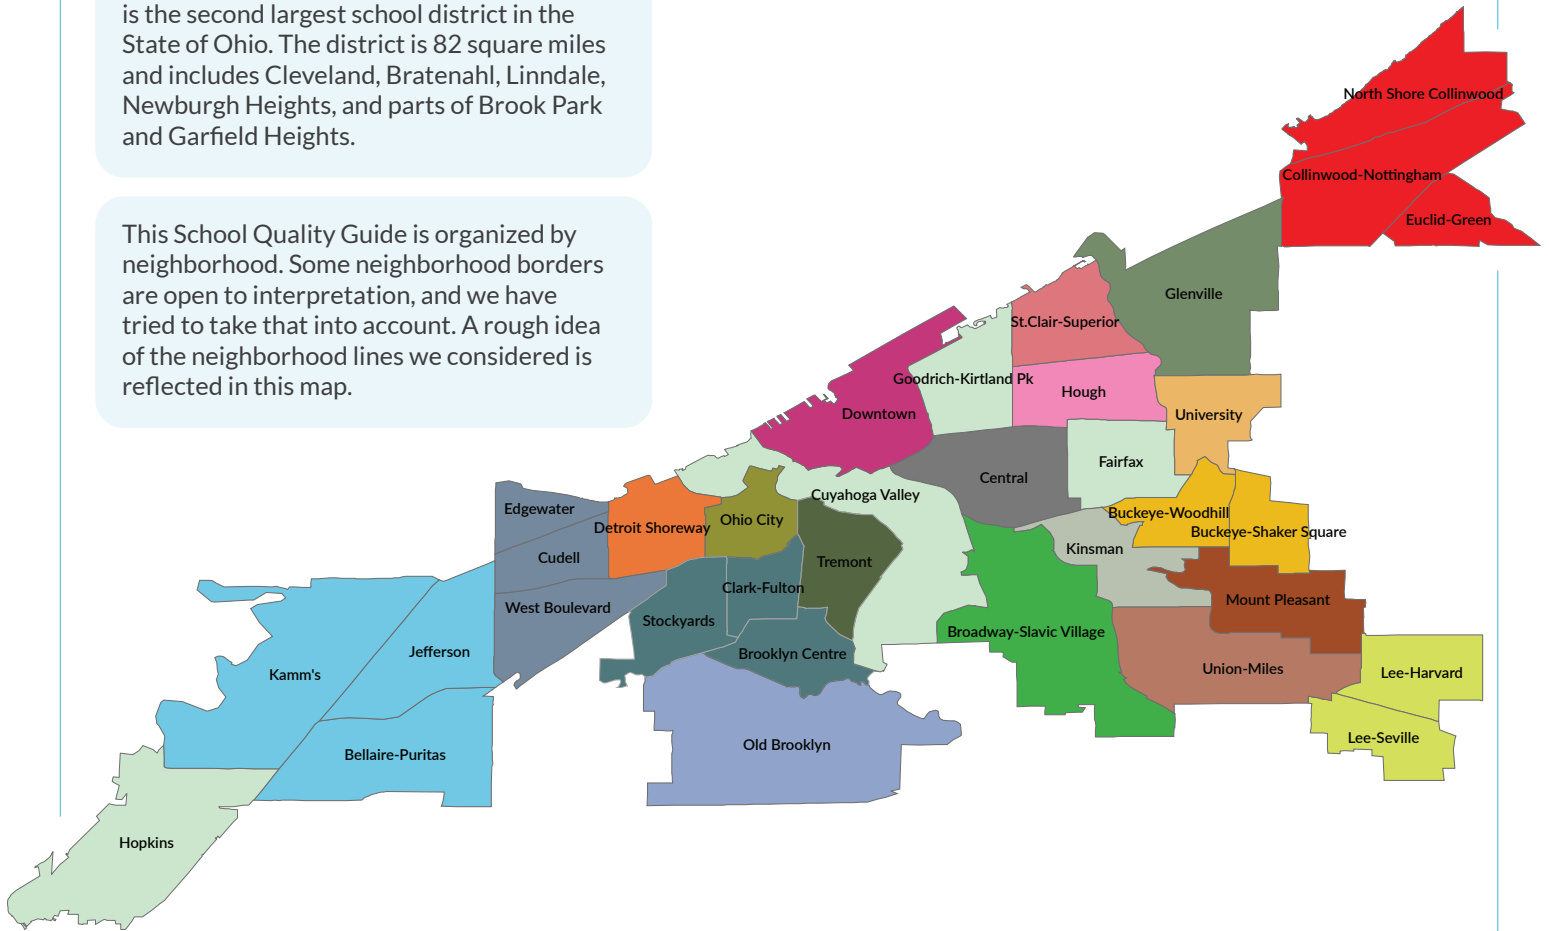

The Cleveland Transformation Alliance, created through The Cleveland Plan, is a trusted community partner working to ensure every student is engaged in a high-quality, equitable education. The CTA gives families and students the information they need to commit to their best-fit public school.

The work of the Alliance is collaborative. Our board represents the broad coalition that supported the Cleveland Plan through legislation, and implementation. Our community has much to be proud of but there is more work to do to ensure Cleveland is a thriving community where every child is flourishing in their best-fit school.

USING THIS GUIDE

The Cleveland Metropolitan School District is the second largest school district in the State of Ohio. The district is 82 square miles and includes Cleveland, Bratenahl, Linndale, Newburgh Heights, and parts of Brook Park and Garfield Heights.

This School Quality Guide is organized by neighborhood. Some neighborhood borders are open to interpretation, and we have tried to take that into account. A rough idea of the neighborhood lines we considered is reflected in this map.

*Navigator: A CTA navigator creates a flexible approach that helps build partnerships among families, schools, and communities to increase student academic success. A navigator is a person who will listen, make connections, collaborate, inform, and help bridge communication and understanding, to help families make informed school choice decisions. Their primary responsibility is to assist families in navigating school options and guide families in deciding which school best meets their children's needs and interests.

School Choice Options: The School Choice Options report provides readers with an understanding of the number of students who are partaking in enrollment options other than their own district of residence. The data does not reflect the quantity or quality of options within each category.

Attendance Rate: The student attendance rate reports the aggregate percent of time the enrolled students in a school or district are in attendance over the course of a school year. This data point is reported on the school and district report cards for informational purposes only and does not directly factor into the component ratings.

Dropout prevention and credit recovery (DOP): can help students aged 16-21 earn high school credits and prepare students to move on to a certification program, apprenticeship, or two-year degree program. Enrolling students must be at least one grade level behind their age group or have experiences that prevent them from continuing at a traditional high school.

Report Card Guide

UNDERSTANDING THE 2023 RATING SYSTEM

The 2023 State report card rating system used to evaluate district and school performance in Ohio highlights the introduction of an overall rating from 1 to 5 stars in half-star increments based on five components. This rating system aims to provide an accessible overview of educational performance, highlighting areas of success and those needing improvement.

Each key component evaluates different aspects of school performance:

Achievement Component evaluates how well students perform against state educational standards, primarily through their scores on state assessments. It looks at the overall mastery of the curriculum, indicating students' level of understanding in key subject areas.

Progress Component measures students' academic growth over time, regardless of their starting point. It assesses how much students have improved in their learning from one year to the next, focusing on the progress students make rather than just their final achievement levels.

Gap Closing Component evaluates how well schools are addressing the educational needs of all students, particularly focusing on reducing achievement gaps between different groups of students, ensuring equity in education and that all students have equal opportunities to succeed academically.

This involves analyzing achievement and progress disparities across different demographic groups, such as racial and ethnic groups, economically disadvantaged students, students with disabilities, and English language learners, to identify and address educational inequities.

Early Literacy Component assesses younger students' reading and writing skills, focusing on their proficiency in foundational literacy. It aims to ensure students are on track with their literacy development at an early age, which is crucial for their overall academic success.

Graduation Component assesses the percentage of students who successfully complete high school within four or five years. It reflects the effectiveness of a school's educational program in keeping students engaged and on track to graduate, highlighting the school's ability to prepare students for post-secondary success.

College, Career, Workforce, and Military Readiness Component in the report card guide is designed to evaluate how well schools prepare students for various post-graduation paths, including military service. For the 2023 report cards, this component is for informational purposes only and does not contribute to the overall rating of schools and districts. It aims to provide insights into students' readiness for life after high school in diverse areas, including military careers.

The Dropout Prevention and Recovery Report Cards evaluate schools based on their success in retaining students and facilitating their completion of high school. These report cards specifically measure the effectiveness of programs designed to prevent students from dropping out and support students in recovering and completing their education if they have previously left school.

PARENT SUPPORT

PARENTS AS TEACHERS | PARENT SUPPORT LEAD PROGRAM | TRIPLE P
CUYAHOGA PARENTS CONNECT | FATHERHOOD RESOURCES

Our dedicated professionals connect parents and caregivers with the knowledge, support, and resources required to educate, empower, and enrich their children, thus setting them up for lifelong success.

Parents as Teachers - An international, evidence-based home-visiting program offering virtual and in-person services designed to give your child the best start in life.

Parent Support Lead Program - Individualized services to families of children affected by lead, designed to mitigate the impact of lead exposure on child development and reduce exposure to lead in the home.

Positive Parenting Program (Triple P) - An international, evidence-based parenting program offering practical strategies and support for everyday parenting challenges.

Fatherhood Resources - An initiative designed to include fathers in parenting and child development services while providing individualized support and resources.

Cuyahoga Parents Connect - An online community of parents supporting one another in raising the next generation.
